The EPA will seek to use state and local officials to assist in community outreach and involvement in order to increase the frequency and consistency of communications. The agency will routinely coordinate with and brief local officials to ensure they are informed about all major aspects of the project and to provide opportunities for input into decision-making.

5.2. Community Involvement Tools and Outreach

Table 8 lists key tools that the EPA may use to communicate with stakeholders. Subsequent sub-sections discuss tools and outreach in further detail.

Table 8: Key Tools

TOOL	METHOD
Coordination with Local Government and Other Agencies	Coordinate with local government and other state and federal agencies to keep them informed about project activities and will schedule briefing meetings as needed to discuss the progress of cleanup.
Community Advisory Group	Provide information to the CAG.
Community Events	Attend community events such as fairs, festivals, boating regattas and races, and cultural festivities to distribute information and answer questions.
Community Involvement Coordinator	Return calls or respond to email in a timely manner.
Email	Continue to maintain an email group list to quickly provide the public with timely information on project developments and news.
Fact Sheets	Produce fact sheets throughout the life of the project to keep the public informed and educated on it and the decision-making process. Dissemination to the public through direct mailings, Web postings and at public forums will continue.
Fish and Crab Consumption Advisories	Work with NJDEP to educate communities about the potential dangers of eating contaminated fish and crab.
Health and Safety Information	Share information pertaining to health and safety with the community during scheduled public meetings and in informational materials created for the site. Anticipated topics of interest include, but are not limited to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <input type="checkbox"/> Trucking and transportation routes <input type="checkbox"/> Work hours <input type="checkbox"/> Worker protection <input type="checkbox"/> Community safeguards <input type="checkbox"/> Environmental monitoring <input type="checkbox"/> Emergency response <input type="checkbox"/> River use restrictions
Information Repositories	Update information repositories with copies (either electronic or paper) of major site documents, fact sheets, and other relevant items as they become available.
Maps and Visual Aids	Include maps, photographs, and other visual aids in documents and fact sheets, at public sessions, and on the website.
Media Notification/Media Events	Provide updates and information to local newspapers, radio, and television outlets.
Presentations	Provide presentations on site-related topics such as the design and cleanup process and monitoring and sampling techniques.
Press Releases	Disseminate press releases to local area media.

TOOL	METHOD
Project Website (www.ourpassaic.org)	Post relevant project documents to the website, including new fact sheets, final technical documents, meeting announcements, etc.
Public Comment Period	Solicit public comment at key milestones and as required by law.
Public Input	Accept informal public input throughout the cleanup process.
Public Meetings	EPA will announce public meetings via a variety of methods such as: newspapers, the project website, town websites and the email list.
Public Notices	Announce public comment periods and public meetings via formal public notices in local publications and via the project website.
School/Education Outreach	Provide project information to local schools and academic institutions and will work with existing educational programs to “piggyback” project information and identify additional opportunities for environmental education.
Technical Assistance Services	Respond to community requests for technical assistance to understand the cleanup.

5.2.1. Community Advisory Group (CAG)

Description: A CAG is made up of representatives of diverse community interests who serve as liaisons for their communities and constituents. A CAG can assist the EPA in making better decisions on how to clean up a site. It offers a unique opportunity to hear—and seriously consider—community preferences for site cleanup and restoration. The existence of a CAG, however, does not eliminate the need for the EPA to keep the community informed about plans and decisions throughout the cleanup and restoration process.

Goal: Provide a public forum for community members to present and discuss their needs and concerns related to the decision-making process. This tool will also provide the community with an arena to raise issues already voiced as key concerns.

Method: The EPA will continue to communicate regularly with the CAG. The EPA will attend public CAG meetings and planning sessions. The EPA will present regular updates to the CAG and provide the CAG opportunities to provide comments on key aspects of the project and cleanup progress. In addition, the EPA will provide presentations on topics of interest as requested.

5.2.2. Community Events

Description: The EPA will attend community events such as fairs, festivals, boating regattas and races and cultural festivities to distribute information and answer questions.

Goal: Community events provide the EPA with the opportunity to build and maintain positive relationships with residents. These events also allow the agency to understand and appreciate the variety of events and activities that are important and enjoyed by community members. Community events also serve to enhance awareness about environmental justice issues and allow the EPA to interact directly with community members who might not typically attend EPA meetings.

Method: The EPA will continue to supply staff and provide information at a booth or table at appropriate events. Refer to Appendix 14 for a list of seasonal events and activities.
